DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kanematsu et al., USP 6,791,771.

The cited reference teaches the claimed method of uniting a core with an insert, both having substantially the same profile and a length, including providing a holding rib – crush rib – and pressing the insert into the channel to deform the rib until the parts are aligned. See col. 15, lines 25-65; col. 19, lines 5-30.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 2-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kanematsu et al., USP 6,791,771 in view of Ogi, USP 4,261,947.

Art Unit: 1732

The cited primary reference substantially teaches the basic claimed method of uniting a core with an insert, both having substantially the same profile and a length, including providing a holding rib – crush rib – and pressing the insert into the channel to deform the rib until the parts are aligned. See col. 15, lines 25-65; col. 19, lines 5-30.

The cited primary reference does not teach the step of extrusion coating.

The added secondary reference teaches as conventional the feature of assembling two pieces and extrusion coating the assembly with a thermoplastic material. A composite product is joined by mating two plastic pieces having stepped end faces 4,5 with grooves 7,8 wherein each face fits into the opposite face. A gap is provided between the parts and a thermoplastic resin is extrusion coated onto the joined portions. The coating serves to unite and decorate the assembly. See col. 3, lines 5-25.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to extrusion coat the assembly of the primary reference as shown in the added reference, for forming a decorative effect and the joint section.

With respect to claims 4-6, see figure 11 of USP 6,791,771 and col. 15, lines 1-12 for a wider top than bottom feature.

With respect to claims 7-8, see USP4,261,947 figure 1 and col. 2, line 64 to col. 3, line 5 to show the conventionality of leg/shoulder joint assemblies.

Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kanematsu et al., USP 6,791,771 in view of DeRees, USP 5,670,109.

Art Unit: 1732

The cited primary reference substantially teaches the basic claimed method of uniting a core with an insert, both having substantially the same profile and a length, including providing a holding rib – crush rib – and pressing the insert into the channel to deform the rib until the parts are aligned. See col. 15, lines 25-65; col. 19, lines 5-30.

The cited primary reference does not teach the step of providing an adhesive per se.

The added secondary reference sets forth joining two parts to form a composite wherein an adhesive material is injected into the opening therebetween. See col. 3, lines 25-40.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide an adhesive in the primary reference as shown in the added reference, for permanently bonding the two parts.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 10-13 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-13 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Note that the rejection fully addresses each rejected claim including the newly added limitations.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. USP's 4544588; 6210619; 3446361; 2364512; 6654578.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
